

THE COURTS.

An Indictment Found Against Henry Greenebaum.

It Is Based on the Old Charges Made Against Him.

Judge Blodgett Decides the Germania Case in Favor of Mr. Vocke.

A Great Batch of Opinions by the Appellate Court.

The Clybourn Dower Case Decided Against the Widow.

Taxing a Railroad Right of Way--
Insurance Matters, Etc.

HENRY GREENEBAUM INDICTED.

The Grand Jury in the United States District Court gave a very practical demonstration of what they had been doing by returning a huge indictment yesterday against Henry Greenebaum, the West Park Commissioner, President of the German National Bank, member of divers banking firms, etc. The document covers some fifty or sixty pages of foolscap, and charges, with all possible legal verbiage, that Mr. Greenebaum misapplied and embezzled the funds of the bank for his own use and that of his particular friends.

The first count charges that Henry Greenebaum, as President of the German National Bank, on the 15th of November, 1877, embezzled and abstracted from the bank a note for $20,000 made by Hart Brothers.

The second count charges the embezzlement of a note for $20,000 from the same parties, and substituting therefor a note for $25,350, which note was worthless. It was secured by 250 shares of stock of the German Savings Bank and fifty shares of the Chicago Cutlery Company, which were of no value.

The third count charges him with the embezzlement of $18,000 in money of the bank, and substituting therefor his own note for $18,000, secured by 100 shares of the Chicago Cutlery Company and sixty-nine shares of stock of the Staats-Zeitung Company.

The fourth count charges him with embezzling $15,188.69 of money belonging to the bank.

Fifth count—In order to deceive the Directors of the bank, he unlawfully made a false entry in cash-book "G," so as to show that the bank had on hand $23,420, whereas in truth it had only $8,210.

Sixth count—Embezzling $15,000, and substituting therefor two drafts for $7,500 each made by Henry Greenebaum & Co. on Greenebaum Brothers & Co., which drafts were worthless.

Seventh count—Misapplication of $5,000 by causing to be drawn a draft on the Metropolitan National Bank of New York to the order of Greenebaum Brothers & Co.

Eighth count—Misapplication of $6,000 by drawing a draft in favor of Greenebaum Brothers & Co., which was paid.

Ninth count—Assignment of a draft for $20,000 made by Thomas Hoynes on W. B. Maclay, which was made payable to the order of Henry Greenebaum.

Tenth count—Embezzlement of $20,000 by appropriating the proceeds of the above draft.

Eleventh count—Misapplication of $884 by lending the same to Michael Greenebaum, secured by a note of Michael Greenebaum, as agent, which note was worthless.

Twelfth count—Misapplication of $884 by lending the same to Michael Greenebaum, as agent, taking his note for the same, which was worthless.

Thirteenth count—Misapplying $683 by lending the same to Michael Greenebaum, as agent, taking his note therefor, such note being worthless.

Fourteenth count—Misapplying $787 by lending the same to Michael Greenebaum, as agent, and receiving therefor his note, which was worthless.

Fifteenth count—Misapplying $884 by lending the same to Michael Greenebaum, as agent, the security therefor being Michael's note, which was worthless.

Sixteenth count—Misapplication of $1,000 by lending the same to Michael Greenebaum, as agent, the note being worthless which was given to secure the same.

Seventeenth count—Abstracting from the funds of the bank two notes made by Franz Arnold, payable to the German National Bank. One of these notes was for $10,433, and the other for $10,433, both notes belonging to the bank. He substituted for these a judgment note for $20,866, executed by Arnold by Charles Proebsting, his attorney. This note was made without authority, and hence was worthless, as Greenebaum well knew.

Eighteenth count—Misapplication of $10,433 of the funds of the bank by lending the same and taking as security a note made by Franz Arnold for $10,433.

Nineteenth count—Misapplication of $10,433 belonging to the bank by lending the same and taking as security a note for the same amount by Franz Arnold, who was then insolvent, as Greenebaum well knew.

Twentieth count—That Henry Greenebaum, on the 10th of October, 1878, as Secretary of a liquidating committee appointed by the Controller of the Currency of the United States to wind up the affairs of the bank, did, as such an officer and agent of the bank, and with intent to injure the bank, etc., unlawfully surrender to Isaac Greenebaum his notes for $33,895, which notes belonged to the bank.

Twenty-first count—That he surrendered and delivered to Isaac Greenebaum divers notes, the same as in the twentieth count. This count is almost the same as the previous one, and differs only in the phrasology.